Director

Previous Experience:
Directing - Quiz Show

This show has been in the works for well over a year now. I had the opportunity to direct Quiz Show last year, getting to be the first show at NNT to incorporate live streaming into a production was exciting and terrifying as a first time director. This year working with a cast almost three times as large definitely brought a whole lot of new challenges!

As a biologist, I find the brain fascinating. I've taken the opportunity to represent how our brain works with this play. We play around with the idea of recent memories contrasting with past memories, we have our three focal characters and then fill their world with

I have to say thank you to my wonderful producer, Abi. Thank you for taking on such a huge project as a first time producer, you have done brilliantly and I hope you have enjoyed the experience. Thank you for also stepping in to a character with only two days notice!

My cast. My wonderful, crazy, talented, cast. Thank you so much for the hard work you've put in. Thank you for bringing these characters to life and building this world with me. You've all done brilliantly!

I can't thank the tech team and creative team on this show enough. Combining the natural with abstract hasn't been the easiest project, but you've all risen to the occasion and created some brilliant work.
